

Maura has long-term experience in the music and luxury retail industry and in organizing events

Maura graduated with the highest marks in Arts, Music and Entertainment at the Federico II University in Naples.

Having graduated in piano and after being a professional musician and teacher in the classical field, in 1996 she attended a Master in Event Management at the Cattolica University of Milan, winning a stage at the Press Office of 75th Opera Festival at the Arena di Verona.

From 1997 to 2003, she has been in the retail sector of Foyles and Borders international libraries and for three years at the Harrods piano department in London.

Since 2003, she has been Senior Consultant for Steinway & Sons of London, the leading piano company for more than 160 years.

In the luxury sector, she has supported numerous projects of 'Art Case Pianos', unique and exclusive models designed for the international clientele of the most prestigious Interior Designers studios.

Responsible for commercial and cultural relations with major UK music institutions, collaborates with internationally renowned pianists and teachers for the organization of seminars, concerts and masterclasses.

Italian is her mother tongue, but Maura also fluently speaks English and French.